AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

SOME OF THE DIAMONDS ARE PASTE. THE VALUE OF BROOKLYN'S JEWEL MINE RE-

DUCED-SOME OF THE WATCHES TRACED. on settle the question as to the ownership of the diamonds and jewelry found in the apartments of Jeanne Dolle and Eugene Leroux, at No. 92 Berry-st., on Thursday last. I'wo of the watches found in the apartments have been identified as part of the stock sold on credit to Alexander Voelkunger, jeweller, of Nos. 226 and 228 rue de Fanbourg, St. Antonie, Paris. The police say that they have received in formation that Veelkauger closed his place of business ithin a few weeks and ran away with his stock and a weman who was not his wife.

Manrice Ditesheim, a son of a manufacturing jeweller of the same name in Chaux de Fonds, Switzer land, was in this city on his way to Chicago when he heard of the arrest of the woman and man. He at once suspected that some of the watches had come from his father's stock, and told the police that they had been purchased on credit by a man named Voel-kunger, a Parisian jeweller. He obtained from hi-father the number of the watches, which were 2,546. 36,243, 2,864 and 3,007. Of the watches found in the Berryet, tenement, one was numbered 2,546 and the other 36,243.

Notwithstanding this information, the police ar yet unable to learn how Leroux and the woman got ession of the jewels. It is now said that the unset stones, which number three or four gross, are instead of genuine stones. This information was furnished yesterday by Jacob Morch, of Broadway and Bedford-ave., who has been making an inventory of the stock. This will greatly reduce the value of the stock. Mr. Morch now puts the value at about $40,000 or $50,000. The work of making the inventory will be completed to-day.

prisoners say that they came in possession of the jewels through a man named Flammant, who left them in their keeping. They met Flammant at the Hotel Transatiantique, on West-st., New-York, Flam-mant has disappeared. The description given of Flam-mant and his reputed wife tallies with that of a man and woman who came from France on the New-York, thirteen days after the arrival of Leroux and

The prisoners complain bitterly against the police whom they say are making little or no effort to find Flammant. The police say that the woman is not by any means as innocent as she would appear. When the truth is known, they say, she will be found to be one of the principals in the transaction.

Every effort is being made by the police to find Leen Glesmann, the wine merchant, of No. 162 Bedford-ave., who has been missing since Thursday last. Geismann disappeared just after the arrest of Leroux and the woman. He boarded with a Mrs. Auhlfrier, of No. 145 North Seventhest. It is said that the woman spent two nights at his boarding-house. and she was a frequent visitor at his wineshop. On Wednesday last Geismann had a new safe delivered at his place of business, greatly to the astonishment of the neighbors, who did not imagine that he had enough business to warrant it. The safe is still there, and the police are inclined to believe that it contains and the police are inclined to believe that it contains something that will throw light on the case. The house is carefully guarded by the police.

A writ of habeas corpus was yesterday obtained from Justice Callen for the appearance of the prisoners in court to-day. Mr. Towns, counsel for the prisoners, claims that no proof has so far been praduced that the preperty was stolen, and declared that the detention of his clients was an outrage. A letter and cable message were found yesterday in the Berry-st, boase, but when translated had little bearing on the case.

The United States authorities have placed an attachment upon the diamonds and other jewelry, and a deputy marshal has been decided to guard them.

EEGINNING THE "BOODLE" TRIALS. THE FIRST CASE THAT OF PIGOTE, THE PLAN CLERK-SELECTING A JURY.

The trial of the first case among the indictments found by the December Grand Jury in relation to the filegal bills for the Columbus celebration expenses lest fall was began vesterday in the Court of Sessbus, and the greater part of the day was spent in coulder st. Jacobs. The first of the bedieted persons by units to trial was Jacobs H. Pirott, the plan eler, of the Department of Public Buildings, who Immigration, yesterday received a large crayon por was interested in building the reviewing stands, which cost the city $11,400. It was intended to try Patrick Ross, a buildings inspector, who put in the bill for the work on the stands, but he was too ill to appear in court. District-Attorney Ridgway appeared to prosecute the cases, and stated that there was a joint indictment upon a charge of felony against Aldermen McKee, Henney and Wafer, James H.
Pigott and Patrick Ross, and he would like to try them together. Edward F. O'Dwyer, who appeared thank, in East One-hundred-and twenty fifth st., has was being prepared it was found that he was too corner of Lexington-ave, and One-hundred and twenty-fifthest. It will cost $50,000. A. W. Ford to the effect that Mr. Ross was suffering from a severe attack of gastritis and muscular rheumatism, and it was atterly impossible for him to larve his room. The District Attorney then

The work of getting a jury is likely to be protracted until noon to-day, as only one-built the requisite number had been obtained when the court adjourned. The indictment charges Pigott, together with Ross to chest and defraud the manicipality by claiming $11,409 for building grand stands, the sum being greatly in excess of a tair price, and the city not legally indebted for the amount. The second count charges Pigott and his associates with wrongfully aiding and abetting one another in obtaining money from the city by countying at the audit and payment of the bill.

REPORT OF THE CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION. The ninth annual report of the Civil Service Com mission shows that there are 6.724 persons paid by the city for their services. Of these 2,722, including Mayor, Aldermen, heads of city departments, and teachers and other employes of the Board of Education, are exempt from Civil Service rules and 4,000 are included under the rules, of whom 2,760 are ap-Commission asks for more adequate quarters in which pool gamblers, and help to promote brutality in to carry on its work, a small office in the City Hall

BRIDGE TRUSTEES AWARD A CONTRACT. The Bridge Trustees held their May meeting yes terday, there being a quorum of the new body in attendance. The principal business was the award of a contract to the firm of Levering & Gatrigues for the construction of the new station at the New York The firm was the lowest bidder, offering to do the work, without the passenger elevators at Rose-st., for $240,62930. It would cost about $10,000 mere to put in Otis elevators, and they were left out in awarding the contract. The time for doing the work is nine months. The receipts of the Bridge for April were $110,100 s0, and the expendi-tures $84,520 38. There were 3,706,273 passengers

At the second annual meeting of the Long Island Odd Fellows' Home Association, held at Everett Hall Saturday evening, the following officers were elected: Francis E. Pouch, president; Harry Walker, vice-president; Sidney L. Rowland, treasurer; Charles A. Vall, secretary; managers, Edgar Whitlock, A. W. Reynolds, George E. Tilly, Thomas J. Percival, John W. Stivers, Thomas S. Keuse, Philip T. Williams, Laurence Powers and William Thomas.

The Rev. Father Sylvester Malone, rector of Sts. Peter and Paul's Church, in Wythe-ave., was seventy-three years old yesterday. The birthday of the priest is always celebrated by the people of the parish, and yesterday he received many tributes of the loving regard of his parishioners.

James Van Valkenberg, of No. 202 Fifteenth-st., was made foreman of the May Grand Jury yesterday.

In the suit of Charles B. Redhead and Frank W. Saydam to recover $2,000 as commission from the Parkway Driving Club on account of the purchase of the site for the clubhouse and track of the club, in Gravesend, Judge Osborne gave judgment in favor of the defendant yesterday. Saydam was a member of the club at the time the purchase was made, and ment being that the commission should go to the club.

Robert Curran, six years old, of No. 283 Fifthave., was killed in First-st, yesterday by the fall of a small derrick used in lowering gaspipe into a trench. The derrick struck Robert on the head, fracturing his
